

The FCC should spend its time more efficiently by watching radio shows like Howard Stern, who is an embarrassment to any intelligent individual. How can traffic reports represent a threat to anyone? I consider it a public service. Has the FCC targeted local news channels who provide traffic and weather information on the hour? Please, spend your time and money more wisely and take the trash off of the airwaves, not the traffic.